Encyclopedia of world history (facts on file library of world history) 7-volume set.

"Facts On File" is pleased to announce its new seven-volume "Encyclopedia of World History", a truly groundbreaking work and one of the first to offer a balanced presentation of human history for a global perspective of the past. He is a member of an ecumenical brotherhood called the Servants of the Word, whose Detroit house reaches out to youth in the hood. In addition he leads a spiritual awareness discussion group for area college and university instructors called the Socratic Club, and has traveled many times to the Middle East and the Mediterranean world. Each volume era begins with essays that tackle large themes – such as agriculture, science and technology, social and class relationships, trade and cultural exchanges, and warfare – that allow students to make connections and trace key global patterns over time. It also includes: Chronologies in every volume to help students place events in context; More than 600 illustrations, including a 32-page insert of full-color maps in each volume designed to convey the importance of geography in world history; An appendix in each volume; Further reading sections that encourage further research; Individual volume indexes; And a comprehensive set index. And he prays! It is informative with cross-referenced entries. It is based on primary source documents, carefully chosen to be representative of the six world eras. He is an advocate for a learning-centered method called "Reacting." Outside the classroom, he sponsors a podcast called Reconnecting the Threads (, speaking about raw life in urban settings. Arranged in six chronological eras that span from prehistory to the present day, this chronological approach follows the way world history is taught and studied in the classroom. The publications for his essays include Harvard Theological Review, Journal of Biblical Literature, Catholic Biblical Quarterly, Journal for the Study of Judaism, and Commonweal. In his time off, he loves cooking (and good food) and still tries to keep in shape. A team of distinguished world history academics has brought together scores of specialists in writing signed entries based on the latest scholarship. Based on the National Standards for World History and influenced by the National Standards for World History, this comprehensive and authoritative set is rich in features to make the study of world history easier for students to understand.
